

Growth of Residency Training in Canada

This infographic shows the change in the number of Canadian Citizens/Permanent Residents (CC/PR) enrolled in residency training over the last twenty-five years. For simplicity Canada was split into five regions that each contained at least two medical faculties: Atlantic (Newfoundland & Labrador, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia), Québec, Ontario, Prairies (Manitoba, Saskatchewan), and West (Alberta, British Columbia). The population for these provinces was obtained and summed from Statistics Canada to determine the per capita rate of residents in each region.
